

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS EDUCATION AND TRAINING

from an organization that understands the language of healthcare

In today's world of both natural and man-made disasters, healthcare facilities need to feel confident that their staff have the knowledge and skills to understand new compliance mandates, best practices and just-in-time training concepts. The Yale New Haven Center for Emergency Preparedness and Disaster Response (YNH-CEPDR) provides emergency preparedness education and training to healthcare and public health personnel employed in a variety of healthcare organizations including hospitals, emergency medical services, urgent care centers, skilled nursing facilities, community health centers, military and public health departments. YNH-CEPDR also provides customized emergency preparedness education and training to personnel from other business entities.

YNH-CEPDR courses are:

- ▼ Healthcare-focused
- ▼ Competency-based
- ▼ Time-efficient
- ▼ Cost-effective
- ▼ Customizable for regional and organizational variations
- ▼ Delivered via multiple modalities
  - Online (SCORM-compliant)
  - CD-ROM
  - Instructor-led
  - Train-the-trainer
- ▼ Supportive of ongoing compliance with standard-setting organizations and regulatory agencies such as The Joint Commission, OSHA, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, the Department of Health and Human Services, the Department of Homeland Security the National Incident Management System (NIMS) and the National Fire Protection Association (NFA)

The Yale New Haven Center for Emergency Preparedness and Disaster Response can assist your organization with preparedness training and education.
